THE DELTA DIFFERENCE

For the past 30 years Delta has been a leader in web converting and packaging innovation. Delta is dedicated to providing flexible automation solutions for converters and manufacturers worldwide. From our design/production headquarters in Minneapolis, Minnesota Delta directs and maintains an international network of technical support and service.

CUSTOMIZED ENGINEERING

Based on our unique Mod-Tech technology and designed to your precise specifications, Delta's systems provide an innovative, adaptable platform for cutting-edge web converting, packaging and finishing. Faster turnarounds, a shorter time to market, and the ability to take advantage of new opportunities are just the beginning of the benefits of choosing Delta.

PRECISION PERFORMANCE

Featuring the tightest tolerances in the industry, Delta systems help customers minimize material waste and improve their OEE ratings. An intuitive graphical user interface streamlines operations while increasing run times to deliver higher throughput. We partner with leading specialty process equipment suppliers to add capabilities that ensure seamless integration and smooth operation of your manufacturing system.

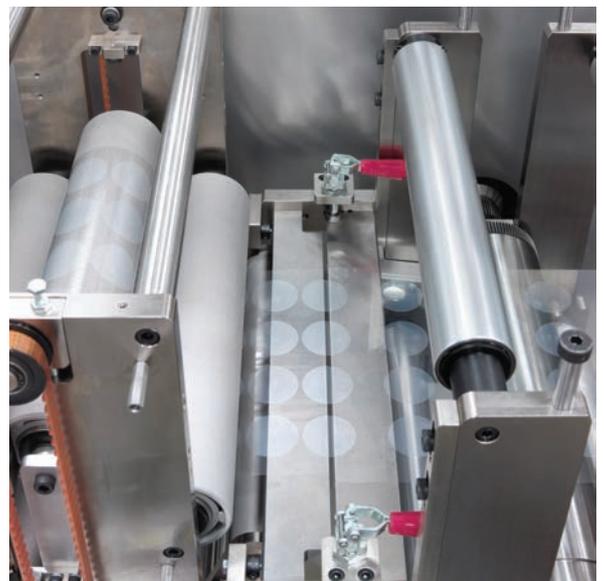

PASSIONATE SERVICE

Delta's culture of creative innovation develops and encourages passionate problem solvers who bring a can-do spirit to every challenge. Our fully integrated service and support system combines multiple vendors to provide a complete solution that saves time and minimizes risk. On-site training, remote service updates, and ongoing technical support is just a phone call away to help keep your Delta equipment running at peak efficiency. In addition, Delta offers solutions for R&D, validation, and documentation support to meet market-specific regulatory and compliance requirements.

MARKET EXPERTS

Because we understand your needs, Delta's proven and flexible automation technologies have launched over 1,000 specialized, innovative systems for pharmaceutical, medical, label, RFID, packaging, and consumer goods manufacturers.

At Delta, customization is business as usual, performance is expected, innovation comes standard, and passion is in our DNA.

Delta offers a variety of solutions for precise part placement, which can reduce the waste of costly materials.
